WHAT TO BRING LIST
These are just suggestions. Most people tend to bring much more clothing than they use. There is a local laundry service that can handle some guest laundry 2 days a week.

- S’mores ingredients to use around the campfire. You can buy locally too, but some like them the first night at camp.

Clothing
Dress around camp during the day can be anything. For dinner most people prefer slacks or shorts and sport shirt. When on the dining porch, please wear cover over bathing suits, something on the feet and please no muscle shirts. Everyone appreciates clean clothing when dining.

- Rain gear, raincoat or poncho, foot
- Short & long sleeved shirts
- Warm jacket and hat; hopefully you won't need them but we are in the mountains and it can get cold
- Cap or sun hat.
- Socks, PJ’s, underwear
- Sweater or fleece
- Windbreaker; nice when on the lake
- Bandana, great for hiking!

We sell an assortment of Timberlock short and long sleeved shirts, caps and sweatshirts in most sizes of a good quality that have always been popular with guests.
We have beach toys, porta-cribs, high chairs, day packs, water bottles, an ice machine, life jackets, a few kid fishing pole loaners and umbrellas.

What Not To Bring: blowdryers, televisions, electric appliances that are not battery chargeable, loud boom boxes and absolutely no “personal watercraft” (Jet Skis). We do have a couple of guest outlets in the Main Lodge that you can use to charge video cameras, computers, and cell phones. (There is no cell phone reception at camp).

Tip: If you are in the market for footwear that you can hike in or just wear around and is cool and waterproof, then look to the rubber-bottomed, fabric-sided, Gore-Tex day hikers. They are light, comfortable & waterproof.
